

Vienna, VA (October 10, 2010) - Welcome to the new and improved Futrend website! We are excited to announce the launch of our newly designed website-which emphasizes Futrend's mission, our passion to improve efficiencies and effectiveness as well as our core competencies. Sitting at the cutting edge of technology, Futrend reconstructed our site's style, look, and feel to better represent that idea.

Navigating through the layers of artfully crafted pages, users are able to learn more about Futrend and our people, as well as discover what we, as a company, strive to accomplish and the many services we offer. We have also included a new section to our website, Resources, to better inform the public of our company events and share our enthusiasm and involvement in the community with our outreach program.

To attract talents, our new "Careers" page highlights the differences while working at Futrend. We flourish off of our employees' achievements, and strive to assist them in the improvement and success in their career path of choice. We constantly want to empower and enable our staff to be the best and do our best to point them to that direction.
